THE LAW: ARE YOU AWARE OF THE RISKS?

The law can be viewed in four general categories:

1. Endangering the welfare of a child. YOU are breaking the law if alcohol is consumed by minors in your home, even if you do not supply it.
2. Unlawfully dealing with a child. Serving alcohol to minors is a criminal offence.
3. Criminal nuisance. It is a misdemeanor to knowingly allow your home to be a place where persons gather to engage in unlawful conduct.
4. Vehicle and traffic laws. If injury to a minor results after drinking at your home or if he/she causes injury to another person (such as an automobile accident), YOU could be held liable.
